

Vale Watch Area map.

A few hills, even fewer trees, a dry land.

The Paragaino River is off the map to the north side and east side of this map.

The only civilization here was the Vale Watch cave fort.

There are occasional birds, some animals large and small, but no dwarves nor humanoids. On rare occasions the adventurers might spot a group off in the distance. When they get there, no tracks, no signs that any one was actually there.