

The basement. The gray square is the opening after the fireplace moves.

Theres a light,
down in the basement.

Why is it there ?
Nobody supposedly lives here !

The village has been abandoned for many years !

Fresh torch in the wall sconce. The edge of the light half-circle can be seen from the rectangular hole. Yes, there is a large area around it... contemplating bones and water pockets in the area outside the basement.

The bluish blobs are water.

Some graves to the east of the village hall, long forgotten. A burial. Doubtful the villagers ever knew they were there. Minimal weapons, no armor.
