

Moroni Range, South

Elves in the Starshine Forest to the north and east.

Castle Defender wasn't much, they had weak attackers, until the day stronger opponenets showed up. Now it is a Motte and Bailey, with three support towers nearby.

The various evil people in the mountains started attacking the villages. More towers with enclosed stone baileys were built to better defend these areas.